Aperture Foundation www.aperture.org	Aperture—located in New York's Chelsea art district—is a world-renowned non-profit publisher and exhibition space dedicated to promoting photography in all its forms. Aperture was founded in 1952 by photographers Ansel Adams, Dorothea Lange, Barbara Morgan, and Minor White; historian Beaumont Newhall; and writer/curator Nancy Newhall, among others. These visionaries created a new quarterly periodical, Aperture magazine, to foster both the development and the appreciation of the photographic medium and its practitioners. In the 1960s, Aperture expanded to include the publication of books (over five hundred to date) that comprise one of the most comprehensive and innovative libraries in the history of photography and art. Aperture's programs now include artist lectures and panel discussions, limited-edition photographs, and traveling exhibitions that show at major museums and arts institutions in the U.S. and internationally. The experience of our customers who use our services, and 2. The experience we deliver for the users of our customers’ products. These two view points have manifested themselves in our structure as well as our philosophy. Our structure is comprised of three distinct, yet synergistic businesses: our Digital Agency, Usability Lab and our Placement Services. Depending on the needs of our customers, they may interact with one or more sides of the house (or Barn, as it were). Our philosophy is simple: deliver great work and treat our customers as if we are part of their team. Many times we are considered just that.
